Tech Support for Teaching Remotely

First and most important, you are not expected to deliver a full online learning experience at this time. It would not be reasonable, and it would not be good for you or your students. Let's focus on what is essential.

We recommend that you use ACC email, Moodle, and Zoom in order to teach remotely.

Our IT Department is committed to going above and beyond in supporting you during this time. This means that if you are having an issue with any of your technology, they will help you solve the problem.
