- Modify and/or develop course objectives, course outlines, curricula, and evaluation procedures and instruments to reflect current industry practices and program requirements.
- Prepare and maintain all course-related records, including student evaluations and attendance records, and submit information as required.
- Identify, prepare, and organize course materials, equipment, tools, and learning resources for course delivery.
- Maintain a safe, organized, and effective classroom and shop environment and, when necessary, recommend action to the supervisor regarding student behaviour, including formal student disciplinary action.
- Facilitate and maintain a creative and positive learning environment that provides opportunities for meaningful learning and the development of practical skills.
- Assist in developing timetables, program budgets, and operational plans.
- Participate in projects that support College activities and initiatives.
- Assist with the identification, design, implementation, and evaluation of new initiatives.

Qualifications:

- Red Seal Journeyperson Certificate in the Carpentry.
- Relevant and significant industry experience in general construction
- Well-developed technical skills, particularly in Microsoft Office

- We are looking for someone who loves to communicate, wants to share their knowledge, and is committed to creating exceptional learning experiences for our students.
- Teaching in an adult environment is highly desirable (industry supervisory experience is an asset)
- Solid understanding or an ability to learn about of Indigenization and decolonization of curriculum, classroom instruction, assessment and evaluation, student advising and group facilitation.
