COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Assiniboine Community College's North Hill Campus resides within one of the most unique land assets of the City of Brandon.

Assiniboine Community College's North Hill Campus is located in the northeastern portion of Brandon, Manitoba. The site currently consists of a series of heritage buildings located at a higher elevation than the surrounding topography (Brandon's north hill), thereby providing the campus with a sense of grandeur. The campus features the Manitoba Institute of Culinary Arts, which opened in 2007 to students and the community. The Len Evans Centre for Trades and Technology opened in September 2010 and the Sustainable Greenhouse in early 2013. The College continues to develop this dynamic campus. The Campus Master Plan provides a framework for decision-making well into the future.

DEVELOPMENT STRATEGY

The North Hill Campus is envisioned to unfold within a three stage process that considers build out over a short, medium, and long-term time frame.

Stage One - A Complete Campus Approach

This stage delivers a 'complete' campus in terms of the amenities, services, and overall experience offered to students, staff and visitors in the short-term.

Stage Two - Extending the Campus Heart

Stage Two is about building on the campus experience created during Stage One, and extending it northwards.

Stage Three - Developing The Northern Campus

This stage will develop the northern area of the campus to complete the Master Plan Vision.

An inclusive design process:
