Skills and experience for the next step in your career.

As the Sales Agronomist, the successful candidate will be responsible for identifying and developing new business opportunities for the location, while strengthening existing customer relationships through a high standard of service and excellent agronomic recommendations.

Your day-to-day activities will include:

- Fostering and developing customer relationships
- Scouting fields and conducting soil testing to determine agricultural needs
- Promoting P&H products and services that highlight the benefits to the producer
- Work with producers to create viable solutions to their business needs
- Generate profitable business agreements for the location and P&H at large

The successful candidate should enter the position with the following qualifications:

- Must currently hold P.Ag or CCA certification
- Minimum 3 years of experience in dealing with agricultural producers at increasing levels of responsibility
- Highly developed sales and customer service skills with the ability to execute on plans and deliver maximum revenue potential;
- Thorough knowledge of the crops in the area along with experience in providing modern, effective crop protection solutions for the producer;
- Valid driver's license.
